New York Stock Market

New York, April 17.—Attention was focused upon the improving financial and political conditions abroad to-day by the reduction in the Bank of England's discount rate to 4 1-2 per cent from 5 per cent, the figure at which it had been maintained since last October.

land's discount rate to 4 1-2 per cent from 5 per cent, the figure at which lit had been maintained since last October.

Evidence of genuine betterment in feeling abroad recently has been plentiful, the most direct and positive being steady absorption of securities here for foreign account during the last fortnight. Domestic influences, such as the uncertainties of tariff legislation, misgivings as to the outlook for the money market, and the still uncompleted process of readjustment in investment securities, made necessary by the offering of new issues at high rates, have largely counteracted the effect of improvement abroad, so that this market has moved in an uncertain way with frequent periods of depression, while the principal foreign markets have shown returning confidence. The reduction of the Bank of England's rate to-day, however, was evidence which could not be ignored. It was reinforced by the strong weekly statements of the banks of England and Germany, the former's proportion of reserves to liabilities having now been brought up nearly to 48 per cent. Bankers were of the opinion that reduction in the official sale of the Bank of Germany and the Bank of France was not improbable. At home call money was easier. Time funds for short dates also were casier, long dates being upheld by the strength of the market for commercial paper. Easing off of call funds is due largely to stagnation of the stock market, and should speculation become active it is the opinion of bankers that the effect would be registered in an immediate tightening of funds.

The effect of the day's developments was registered in the stock market by an inquiry from the short interest which was sufficient to advance prices generally. There was some buying of investment stocks, but the chief ders, whose confidence was shaken by lowering of the England Bank rate and evidence that the short interest was again overextended.

The bond market was irregular. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

COTTON MARKETS.

New York April 17—The feature in the atock market to day was covering by near month hours and the relative strength of oil crop deliveries. Good weather in the South held the new crop back, but the general list closed steady and from 267 points not higher. The market opened steady at a dectine of 163 points under scattered local sching. Which appeared to be impried by somewhat disappointing Liverpool futures, familier English spot sales and a favorable weather map. Near month offerings were readily taken around the opening fligures however, and the action of the market very soon suggested that the May short interest was becoming uneasy. Talls was attributed to recent presistent runors that a considerable block of cotton would be taken up on May contracts here for shipment to Liverpool, and while such reports were discretived in some circles it was more of less generally admitted that the local stock represented railier a low neicel let of cotton semipared with other donestic and foreign market. At any rate the near months advanced quite sharply during the middle of the day paid after having shown a discount of some of the people whe soil May and who were supposed to be undoing oil stradioles, while it was also in some demans from induses with New Oriesna connections, and soil about 7 points above the closing price of vesting complaints of dry weather in central Peaus or of unfavorable low temperatures in some pertlens of the belt. Offerings were light, the late deliveries consequently hypopalized sufficiently with oil crop strength to sell alhout 275 points net higher.
